PRIYA'S MOTHERS DAY GIFT

Priya was excited as she got into the school bus. She was on her way home and tomorrow, at last, was Mother's Day. Priya had been planning for this day for weeks. Since she did not get any pocket money, she could not buy a card for her mother. Instead, she had made one herself. She had spent two whole nights cutting, painting and decorating it. She had made a picture of a mother hugging her daughter and stuck it on the front. She was sure her mother would love it.

Priya sat down next to her friend, Anu. She was about to tell her about the card she had made for her mother when Anu said excitedly, "Hey, I got my mother a book of poems for Mother's Day. It cost me a lot of money though." Just then, Somy, who was sitting nearby added, "I got my mother a picture frame. I saved all my pocket money to buy it." Priya felt bad. Everyone seemed to be buying good things for their mothers but she had only a handmade card to give her mum. If only she had some money!

When she got home, she went straight to her room and shut the door. She took out the card and looked at it. She had such a lovely mum who deserved the best but she had nothing to give her in return. After sometime her father called her. He wanted to take her and mum out for a treat that evening to start the Mother's Day Celebrations. Soon the three of them were in a restaurant having delicious dinner. Priya pretended to be happy but her father noticed the sadness in her eyes.

As soon as they were home Priya's father took Priya to her room and asked her what was bothering her. Priya started crying and told her father about the card. When she showed it to him, he loved it. He said, "You've made a beautiful card for your mum. So why are you crying when you have such a unique gift for her." Priya still thought that her card looked common and cheap. Her father told her that it was priceless as it was made with her own hands and with a lot of love. He also said her mother would not judge Priya's love by the cost of her gift and mum also knew that Priya did not get any pocket money.

Priya was relieved now. She could give her mother the card after all. The next morning, when she woke up, she went straight to her mother and hugged her as she gave her the card. Her mother was delighted when she saw the beautiful card. Now Priya was sure that her Mother's Day gift was a very good one indeed.
