- Books are by far the most lasting products of human efforts. Temples crumble into ruins, pictures and statues decay, but books survive. Time is of no account with great thoughts which are as fresh today as when they first passed through their author's mind ages ago. What was then thought and said still speaks to us as vividly as ever from the printed page. The only effect of time has been to shift and winnow but the bad products; for nothing in literature can long survive but what is really good. Books introduce us into the best society; they bring us into the presence of the greatest minds that have lived. We hear what they said: We see them as if they were really alive; we sympathise with them, enjoy with them, grieve with them; their experience becomes ours; and we feel as if we were actors with them in the scenes which they describe.

Unit-IV

4. (a) Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given at the end : 5
- Patriotism is an old concept, as old perhaps as the earliest of human civilizations. But all through the history of mankind, it has been narrowly understood. Today people have begun to realise that patriotism is an essential part of human instinct.

Patriotism has its negative sides particularly when it exceeds its proper bounds. People who think their own country to be the best are blind to its weaknesses are not patriots at all.

We are the members of a large human family and so cannot neglect our duties and responsibilities towards it. Our love for the country should be conditioned by respect for the whole community. Narrow prejudice can do nothing except to bring misfortune. In trying to overlook others' interest in the modern world, we harm our own. Patriotism should be tempered with reason so that it may not be an evil.

- (1) What is the belief of people regarding patriotism today ?
